THE PEDAGOGUES

Of Marshall County Holding Institute at Benwood.

THE FIRST DAY'S ATTENDANCE

SHOWED A LARGE ENROLLMENT OF TEACHERS—PROF. C. E. GITHENS, OF WELLSBURG, ONE OF THE INSTRUCTORS—"HISTORY" AND "BETTER CITIZENSHIP" DISCUSSED YESTERDAY. AN ENJOYABLE SOCIAL SESSION ARRANGED BY BENWOOD TEACHERS LAST NIGHT.

The Marshall county teachers' institute opened at Benwood yesterday morning and it will continue until Friday afternoon. The institute is being held in the Methodist Episcopal church, in the lecture room, which was comfortably filled yesterday. Nearly 200 teachers are in attendance, and the enrollment will be increased daily.

The institute has been unfortunate in regard to instructors. Prof. F. H. Craigo, of this city, was first assigned, but another engagement prevented his acceptance, and yesterday morning a telegram was received from Prof. L. J. Corbis, of Huntington, the other instructor, stating that on account of the serious illness of his wife, he was unable to leave home. Prof. C. E. Githens, of Wellsburg, took charge yesterday, and efforts are being made to get an assistant, with the probability that Prof. Duncan, of Bridgeport, will be secured to-day.

The institute convened in the morning at 10 o'clock, being called to order by County Superintendent W. M. Wirt. The hymn, "Coronation," was sung, after which Rev. J. S. Robinson offered prayer.

An organization was effected by appointing Miss Nora Dolbear and Mr. Chapman, as enrolling clerks, and W. R. Gordy, as institute secretary. Prof. Githens was then introduced.

In the afternoon instructor Githens spoke on "History." The subject elicited an interesting discussion. Quotations from Shakespeare and the Bible were next called for and given.

"Better Citizenship" was discussed by F. P. Harris, J. T. King, J. K. Chase and Prof. J. C. Gwynn, principal of Madison school, Wheeling. The afternoon session concluded at 4 o'clock.

Last night the Benwood teachers arranged an enjoyable social session, giving the visitors the opportunity to get acquainted with each other. Prof. C. E. Carrigan and the other Benwood pedagogues are untiring in their efforts to entertain the visiting teachers.

Among yesterday's visitors was Prof. B. C. Jones, ex-Superintendent of the Bellville schools. F. P. Harris is present in the past four years with southern newspapers, and the fraternity in West Virginia will gladly welcome him back to his native state.

ON TO HAVANA!

Captain Franzheim's Company of Immunes will Join

GENERAL LEE IN THE ADVANCE

UPON THE CUBAN CAPITAL IN THE NEAR FUTURE—THE COMPANY HAS BEEN ORDERED TO JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA, WHERE IT WILL BECOME A PART OF THE SEVENTH CORPS, COMMANDED BY MAJOR GENERAL FITZHUGH LEE.

At last one of the three companies that were enlisted in Wheeling for the Spanish-American war will see active service, notwithstanding the fact that none of them was called upon before peace was declared.

This information came in a telegram from Captain A. A. Franzheim, of Wheeling's company of "Immunes," in the Fourth United States Volunteer Infantry, now camped at Camp Cobb, near Fredericksburg, Virginia, stating that the regiment had just received orders from the war department at Washington to prepare to leave immediately for Jacksonville, Florida, where the Seventh Corps of the volunteer army, under Major General Fitzhugh Lee, is encamped. This means that Wheeling will be represented by 100 good men and true when General Lee realizes the ambition of his later life by re-entering Havana, this time at the head of an army that wrests from Spain control of the Gem of the Antilles. With what satisfaction General Lee will receive from Ramon Blanco the surrender of the city of Havana! His satisfaction will be equalled only by the patriotic ardor of his men. The Intelligencer congratulates Captain Franzheim and his company upon their selection to take part in this service.

Captain Thomas D. Bennett last night received a telegram from Corporal C. Ed. Darby, telling of the order to move from Camp Cobb. The wording of the telegram leaves the impression that the boys will soon see Cuba. It is as follows:

Friend Captain—Leave for Jacksonville, Fla., to-morrow. Havana and Lee next. DARB.

A CAMP FUNERAL

Described by Ben Honecker, of the Immunes—Rough Experience of the Boys on a March Through the Rain—"Ted" Lukens and Charles Brady are Sergeants Now.

Several interesting incidents of life at Camp Cobb are contained in the following letter to the Intelligencer, from Private Ben Honecker, of Captain Franzheim's company. The letter reads:

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Aug. 13, 1898.

Almost the entire regiment turned out Sunday morning and marched to town, where we attended the Presbyterian church and listened to a very interesting sermon by the chaplain of the regiment. Early Sunday morning two brothers by the name of Forsyth, were killed on the railroad while attempting to beat their way to Washington. It is supposed they were drunk when run down by the train. The remains were brought back to camp and Sunday evening they were laid to rest in the beautiful National cemetery. Companies A and B, of which the brothers were members, turned out and marched to the cemetery. The bodies were enclosed in coffins wrapped in the stars and stripes, as the burial party slowly marched from the camp the band played the "Dead March" and the soldiers stood with uncovered heads. When the cemetery was reached the burial service was read by the chaplain. The coffins were lowered and a bugler stepped to the head of the graves and sounded the beautiful and touching notes of "taps."

Tuesday the second battalion took a practice march into the country in heavy marching order. Our luggage consisted of the following named articles: blanket, poncho, one half "pup" tent, tent pegs, tent pole, haversack with rations, mess plate, tin cup, spoon, knife and fork, canteen, gun, bayonet and belt—that's all!

Thursday we received our knapsacks and will have a little bit more to carry on the march. Some of the boys have been kicking about carrying so much, saying "we came into the army to be soldiers and not pack mules." We pitched our tents in a large open field and had been there but a short time when it began to rain. Nearly all the tents came down and as a result everybody got wet. We broke camp while it was still raining and marched back in the rain, and mud a foot deep. During the march to camp we waded a creek with the water up to our knees. At last we arrived and the boys declared it was not necessary to go to Cuba to see the rough side of a soldier's life.

Private "Tom" Lynch has returned. He was away for a few days seeing the sights in Newport News and Richmond.

Private Ulrich, of Company G, has been visiting his sister in Philadelphia. Sunday Private Blakemore, of Company G, paid a visit to friends in Newport News. He visited Fort Monroe and other points of interest.

Corporals "Ted" Lukens and Charles Brady have been promoted to the rank of sergeants in Company G.

Several corporals in Company G have been reduced to the ranks for conduct unbecoming a soldier.

Private "Bob" McCreary has been elected chief of the "Wantoghomeos." B. H.

A PATRIOTIC HYMN

Composed by a Wheeling Man to be Sung Next Sunday Evening.

Mr. C. H. Connolly, of the Island, organist of the First Christian church, has composed a patriotic hymn, which is to be sung for the first time in public at the evening service at the First Christian church, next Sunday evening. The hymn is given below:

(Tune—Silent Night.)
War has ceased; war has ceased;
Praise the Lord, sheathe the sword;
Sing with heavenly harpings bright,
Peace, the tidings of boundless delight,
Praise His holy name; praise His holy name.

Peace has come; peace has come;
Joyful sound, earth around,
Hear your anthem of melody raise;
Heaven and Earth in full chorus of praise;
Peace again doth reign; peace again doth reign.

Cuba is free; Cuba is free;
Thank the brave our land gave,
Offering great, to freedom's call,
Like the Savior, who died for all,
Peace forever should reign; peace forever should reign.

A BAD ACCIDENT

Last Night on the Line of the Wheeling & Elm Grove Road, Near the Mt. Calvary Station—Andrew Welch's Arm Cut Off.

Last night at 9:30 o'clock a bad accident occurred a short distance this side of Mt. Calvary station, on the line of the Wheeling & Elm Grove railroad, east of the city. Fortunately the victim was not killed, and his recovery is anticipated by the physicians.

As the 9 o'clock motor from the city was steaming toward Elm Grove, a short distance this side of the cemetery station, the fireman noticed what appeared to him a bundle of rags close to the outside rail. The instant of the passing of the engine over the bundle, however, the fireman and engineer knew that they had run over a man, and as soon as possible the train was stopped and then backed to the scene of the accident.

It was found that a man had gone to sleep on the track, first having taken off his coat and made of it a pillow on which to sleep. The man was evidently asleep when the accident occurred, but he was far from being asleep when help arrived after the accident. An investigation was made by the trainmen, who found that the right arm had been crushed and nearly cut off just above the elbow. The man proved to be Andrew Welch, a man who is employed at the Mt. Calvary cemetery.

The injured man was placed on board the train and taken to Elm Grove, where Dr. Cracraft was called. Upon his recommendation he was brought back to town and taken to the North Wheeling hospital in the city ambulance. The injured man's mother is a nurse at the hospital.

AMUSEMENTS.

When brains and money work together to produce the best results they are sure to prove a winning combination. That is the reason the Cleveland-Wilson Minstrels are the crack-a-jack amusement organization of the year. Cleveland has ranked for years as the greatest of minstrel managers, while Wilson has stood away ahead of all others as a black face entertainer. For years and years both men fought each other and were exceedingly bitter professional rivals. It will be a surprise and an un-mixed delight for the people of Wheeling to see them here together at the Opera House on the night of Monday, August 22. They opened up the season with the intention of driving each other from the stage, but by a happy combination of circumstances they were led to see the folly of fighting and the wisdom of combining. They allied their shows, with the result that while each retains its individuality, the street parade and the stage performance is dual. The performers play in rollicking rivalry and the result is a festival of fun.

Heroes of the Sea.

The father of 1776 that distinguished the fathers of the nation is an inheritance of the sons of the Republic, intensified and glorified by appreciation of the sovereignty which we enjoy and the proud eminence we have attained. The War of the Revolution had its Paul Jones; that of 1812 had Bainbridge, Perry, and Decatur—heroes whose memories we delight to honor. Dead for almost a century, their spirits survive in Schley, and in the personnel of the entire navy, whose brave deeds are familiarizing the world with American heroism. It is the purpose of our Nation in War to picture the dashing and daring exploits of our defenders on both sea and land, to which end each number will contain sixteen or more splendid and spirited photographs and original drawings of battle-scenes, bombardments, naval engagements, navy movements, and pictures of places that possess special interest by reason of incidents connected therewith in the progress of the war. The series will compose a pictorial history of the chief events in the wars of the nation, the value of which will be innumerable, both for the present and the future.

FIFTY-SECOND'S REUNION.

The twenty-third annual reunion of the Fifty-second Ohio Volunteer Infantry Association will be held at Newcomerstown, O., August 23. The resident comrades have arranged an excellent programme.
